

Business & Management

38.04.02 Management

Mode of Attendance: Distance course

Course duration: 2,5 years

Language: Russian/English

The education programme is focused on training healthcare managers able to efficiently elaborate a development strategy for medical organizations and take well-considered decisions. The hands-on training programme aims at acquiring professional competencies necessary for solving specific healthcare organizations' issues, carrying out research and educational activities. The programme is hosted and led by leading healthcare specialists, members of the Russian Academy of Sciences.

The programme offers:

- up-to-date education technologies: interactive lectures, group projects, individual and team presentations, research seminars, possibility to choose the course of interest from the wide range of optional disciplines.
- The programme graduates are in high demand in healthcare, public national and international health care organizations, professional medical associations, institutions of higher and continuing professional education.